

Dear authors,

I again thank you for considering my comments and responding to them in the manuscript or your rebuttal letter. You may have different views regarding the interpretation of results and I respect this.

You are right that you did not receive a feed-back from reviewers. After the first round of reviews, I myself scrutinised your manuscript. I checked that you addressed reviewers' comments, except the one I mentioned from Rev 2 regarding the quantity of grunts. My intention was to send your manuscript to the reviewers again after you addressed my comments, for them to check that their comments were adequately addressed. However, because I asked you substantial modifications and v3 arrive a long time after v2 and I did not do so. If you insist, I could mobilise them again.

I thank you for your efforts and accept your manuscript as it is.

Best wishes

Isabelle VEISSIER
